Req. Type Routine

Findings

2 images of the pelvis are available for interpretation. The detail in the caudal abdomen is normal. The kidneys and bladder are normal. The lumbar spine is aligned. The pelvis is intact. The SI joints are normal. The right hip appears to be normal. There is possible subluxation of the left hip although the patient is rotated which makes assessment difficult. No DJD is seen. The visible hind limbs are otherwise normal.

Conclusions

Normal caudal abdomen.

Possible subluxation of the left hip although this could be artifact of positioning. Obvious evidence of DJD is not otherwise identified. The pelvis and hind limbs are otherwise normal. Correlation with the clinical exam findings would be suggested for further assessment.
